

Parent Right to Know Notification

The federal education No Child Left Behind law requires that all parents in a Title I school be notified and given the opportunity to request information about the professional qualifications of classroom teachers instructing their child. This information may include (1) whether the teacher has met the State requirements for licensure and certification for the grade levels and subject matters in which the teacher provides instruction; (2) whether the teacher is teaching under emergency or other provisional status through which State qualification or licensing criteria have been waived; (3) the college major and any other degree; and (4) whether the child is provided services by paraprofessionals, and if so, their qualifications. If you are interested in this information, you may send your request to the building principal who will provide a response.

In addition, parents in the Title I schools will be provided timely notice if the parent's child has been assigned or has been taught four or more consecutive weeks by a teacher who is not highly qualified.
